Three factors were important to us for this project. Firstly, we wanted to be able to manage the increasing user data amounts more securely, effectively and efficiently. Secondly, we wanted to preserve our investment by continuing to use our existing infrastructure. And thirdly, we wanted to be able to carry out advanced analyses more quickly and easily in the future. The concept from ConSol fulfills all three of these criteria. We followed a recommendation from Cloudera when selecting a service provider, and we're certain we have found the right partner in ConSol.
